The purpose of the project is to replace the existing boat launch ramp which is breaking down due to erosion and is unusable at low tide. The bank along the property is also experiencing erosion.

The aggregate base course portion of the fill will be protected from disturbance by the concrete panels and riprap that surround the boat ramp.

It is a rectangular shaped wood frame structure supported by 24 wood piles, surrounded by a wood deck on the north, south and east sides, and is serviced by sewer, water, and electricity.
7. In 2008, the Stewards were contracted by CDPR in a cooperative relationship to fund and support interpretive and educational elements of State parks. The Stewards is a private, non-profit, charitable [IRS 501 (c) (3)] corporation formed under the laws of California. Services are performed at State park units throughout the Russian River District, including the Jenner Visitor's Center, and in-park sales revenue is used to further the interpretive and educational program of the CDPR. Staff is recommending approval of a sublease between CDPR and the Stewards for the remaining term ending August 31, 2011, and will bring a new sublease for the Commission's consideration at a subsequent meeting.
